Friday, at 7:00 p.m. the iLEAD Film Series third feature film will be Beyond Measure. A much anticipated follow up to the acclaimed documentary Race to Nowhere. The screenings will be public at SCVi, founding campus of iLEAD Schools, located at 28060 Hasley Canyon Road, Castaic, in the Hasley Canyon Commerce Center.

"All of these films provide valuable insight into the challenges facing the U.S. education system and the innovation we need to prepare our children to think, lead, create, collaborate and succeed in the 21st century," said Amber Raskin, co-founder of SCVi and iLEAD Schools. "They're engaging, smartly produced films that will entertain and foster discussion in our community."

Each of the films in the series each take a different look at education in the context of a rapidly changing world.

"Beyond Measure," 7 p.m. Friday, Oct. 23 (Free, thanks to a generous donation): Led by producer/director Vicki Abeles, the same team that created "Race to Nowhere" seeks to answer the question: "If our current education culture isn't working, what is?"

The film takes a look at schools that have redesigned themselves, and educators who have brought forth fresh ideas and innovative methods to help students go beyond memorization and t

"We hope the community takes advantage of these opportunities to view these thoughtful and engaging films," Raskin said, "and to participate in a fruitful discussion about new ways in whic embrace the challenge of preparing our children for their future."

SCVi offers project-based K-12 curriculum and student-led assessment with global and culturally diverse influences. The tuition-free charter school emphasizes an inquiry-based, learner-approach to education.
